

Destructive act against a TVW homeowner

Subsequent to the annual owners meeting, a destructive act against a TVW homeowner took place sometime on Sunday, August 7th or Monday, August 8th. Over 75 roofing nails were spread out across both driveway entrances of Tom and Kathy Coseno's lot. The widespread placement indicates that the nails did not fall from a vehicle. These nails caused tire damage, expense, and loss of time. No other owners have reported any similar activity. The board of directors has recommended that the Coseno's report this incident to the Huerfano County Sheriff. The board is also reviewing the need to change certain gate codes. It is important for the entire community to be watchful and question any unusual activity in order to prevent this type of destructive activity.
